GOES TO SAN ANTONIO

Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Chief of Staff, to Confer With Maj. Gen. Funston.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, April 19.—Secretary of War Baker announced today that General Hugh L. Scott, chief of the staff of the army will leave today for San Antonio for a conference with Major General Funston. Secretary Baker stated that General Funston will remain in full command of the expedition in Mexico. The following formal statement was issued by Secretary Baker: "General Scott leaves for San Antonio at 6:15 o'clock at my request. He will spend several days with General Funston and return. This trip is made solely for the purpose of getting as accurate information as is possible for the use of the department. General Funston remains in full charge of the affairs of his detachment including the expedition into Mexico. He has the full confidence of the department and his disposition has the department's entire approval."

If you missed the Little Bowery Show last year your chance of seeing a better one will come at the Portsmouth Theatre on Monday evening.

MEXICAN SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE

It is Much More Critical Now Than When U. S. Marines Were Landed at Vera Cruz

(Special to The Herald)
San Antonio, April 19.—The Mexican situation today is at the gravest stage since troops crossed the border. It is much more critical than when marines landed at Vera Cruz. The belief prevails here that Germany stirred up the Villa episode in order to precipitate the submarine show-down at a time when the U. S. military resources were tied up in Mexico. Despite the excuse of shortage of fodder it is obvious that Funston's shift of border troops to Columbus and the recall of the advanced cavalry south of Salvo, was necessitated because General Pershing was sorely menaced by citizenry and Carranza troops made exceedingly bold by the Partial incident. Combined incidents demonstrated to Funston's satisfaction that the pretended Carranza co-operation amounts to nothing. It cannot be depended upon and Carranza troops are ready to take the slightest pretext to become openly hostile.

CABINET MAY COLLAPSE

Members of English Body Disagree as to Conscription.

(Special to The Herald)
London, April 19.—Premier Asquith in a speech in the House of Commons this afternoon declared that the collapse of the cabinet is a possibility unless material points of disagreement are cleared up. These differences referred to the extension of conscription to married men. The Labor Party has gone on record in a resolution opposing the inclusion of married men in the conscription act.

ULTIMATUM IS SENT TO GERMANY

United States Demands That That Country End All Illegal Submarine Activities Against Shipping

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, April 19.—The U. S. has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding that she end alleged submarine activities against merchant shipping on pain of an immediate severance of diplomatic relations between the two governments. This was admitted today following a conference between Chairman Stone and Flood and ranking minority members Lodge and Cooper of the senate and the house foreign relations committee and President Wilson.

Both Senator Stone and Representative Flood declared that in their opinion this note left no loop hole for diplomatic quibbling with Germany. It recites the manner in which American rights have been violated, the two claimants said, and insists that the U. S. no longer can tolerate a situation of this kind.

House Press Gallery, the Capitol, Washington, April 19, 2 p. m.—Germany must decide whether she will continue friendly relations with the United States or whether there is to be a diplomatic rupture, possibly followed by war. President Wilson so informed a joint session of congress today. He made what he termed an "informative address" to the two houses, explaining that last night he had sent forward to Germany a communication, in every way an ultimatum with the exception that it did not demand a reply within a time limit, insisting that hereafter Germany observe all requirements of international law in carrying on her submarine warfare. Failure to meet the views of the United States will result in the handling of his passports to Ambassador Von Bernstorff and the recall of American Ambassador Gerard.

When the president reached the capitol well ahead of time, the house was struggling along with routine consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. The front of seats on the floor had been cleared to make room for the senate and the big attendance of house members was crowded toward the rear of the chamber. Every seat in the galleries were filled, and spectators even occupied the gallery stairways. Mrs. Wilson took her usual place in the end seat

TRIESTE IS BOMBARDED

Austrian Port on the Adriatic Sea Shelled by Italians.

(Special to The Herald)
Rome, April 19.—The Italian and French sea-planes bombarded Trieste on Tuesday, the war office announced today. This was the first time that it became known that French aviators are co-operating with the Italians in air operations. The Austrians tried to make another aerial raid on Venice, but the machines were driven off and one was compelled to land.

Many building permits have been issued by the Board of Public Works in the past two weeks.

COAST ARTILLERY ENTERTAINS WITH SMOKER AT ARMORY

After the regular drill period at the Portsmouth Armory on Tuesday evening the members of the 1st company, C. A. C., were the hosts to a number of their friends at a smoker. Each of the enlisted men of the Portsmouth company, and each officer was privileged to invite one guest and the armory was thrown open for inspection. The entertainment program included wrestling and boxing matches, the remainder of the evening being spent in an informal manner, the boys of the company doing all possible to give their guests a good time.

To many this was their first visit to the Portsmouth armory and the neat arrangement of the rooms, especially the locker room and recreation rooms, received much favorable comment. The officers of the company and the enlisted men have gone to considerable trouble and expense to fit the place out in a comfortable and attractive manner and practically every bit of furniture has been bought and paid for from their own funds.

The lockers are as neat and modern as any to be found in the state and although many of the citizens are under the impression that they are part of the state equipment, it has just been learned that the members of the company supplied the funds for their purchase. The time and trouble these men have been in, in order to fit the armory and drill shed with furniture that will add to the attractiveness, deserves in the opinion of many, the greatest amount of credit.

The wrestling bout staged last evening was a one-hour match between J. L. Hood of the U. S. S. Washington and Fred Reckendorf of Portsmouth and resulted in a draw, neither man being able to win a fall in that period. Reckendorf was the heavier of the two men and for the greater part of the time had his opponent on the defensive, but Hood's cleverness and speed enabled him time and again to twist away from holds that promised almost certain falls. Hood, on the other hand, had the Portsmouth man worried several times and Reckendorf found himself repeatedly in dangerous positions. Only his great strength enabled him to escape.

The men were working under some difficulties as the mat was not as secure as they wished it, but as the match was wrestled only for the amusement of the men and their guests the slipping of the mat only served to add to the enjoyment of the bout.

Both contestants were hard and constant workers, wrestling in a clean, good natured manner and the fans were appreciative of their efforts to entertain them. Their clever work was appreciated and applauded, the audience being quick to give credit to either man when he managed to escape dangerous holds. At the call of time at the end of the hour both men were given an ovation that must have convinced them that their work was satisfactory. The bout was refereed by Joe Chase with his usual careful attention and fairness.

The boxing match was a three-round, no-decision affair between James T. O'watt and George Haganan, both from the U. S. S. Washington. The two evenly matched youngsters gave a clever exhibition of the art and as neither made any attempt to put his opponent away the bout was interesting and genteel. The two men were well matched as to weight and both appeared in fine condition. The applause during the three rounds was much credit for their clever work. Jimmy Koffe officiated in an able manner as referee.

Following the regular program of entertainment the guests were shown over the armory and much interest was displayed in the work of several of the men who were firing in order to qualify for the range as marksmen. Several of the men are to leave here this morning for the out-door range at Thibodaux, Louisiana, for work on the 250, 300 and 500 yard targets.

The smoker was in charge of a committee which included Captain Hood, well, and Lieutenants Muller and Carson, and the non-commissioned officers of the company. The committee at all times made it a point to keep their guests amused, even to the choice of the brand of cigars which were served. The officers announced that this year's smoker would be followed in the near future by others and varied programs of entertainment for the men of the company will be planned.

MADE THRILLING RESCUE

Millard April 10—People near Union Square were treated this afternoon to a rescue scene as thrilling as any seen in the movies.

Kanshi Pantanen, aged 4 years and Alex Niemi, aged 5, while playing with a raft on the river bank, were caught by the current and swept out to the middle of the river where their cries attracted the attention of passers-by. The children appeared to be doomed for the swift current was carrying them toward the dam at the Millard manufacturing plant. John Reille, janitor at the town house, had the presence of mind to secure a rope. Romano Calderara, with an end of the line in his hand, was lowered over the rail of the stone bridge in time to catch the raft as it was swept under him. With difficulty, on account of the cold water and strong current, he gradually worked himself to the shore at the end of the bridge, where a ladder was lowered and the rescuer and the children were drawn up to firm ground.

The children were not even wet or frightened, but young Calderara, was numb when pulled from the water.

Services at St. John's

Maundy Thursday (named from the Latin word meaning "Do this") our Lord's words regarding the Holy Sacrament and its continuation.) Besides the celebrations of the Holy Eucharist at 6 and 10:30 a. m. and the Litany at 12:15 p. m., there will be a special service of preparation for the Easter Communion in the evening at 7:30, consisting of Evening Prayer and instruction. Every communicant of St. John's should attend this service, if physically able to do so.

Strictly speaking, no communicant of the church is in good standing and really entitled to all the ministrations of the church unless he makes three communions a year, at Easter, Christmas and one other time. Hence, the importance of this preparation for the Easter Communion.

Good Friday, the Day of Crucifixion. Our Lord was crucified at 9 a. m. in the morning, the scene of the morning sacrifice at the Temple, and died at the time of the evening oblation, 3 in the afternoon; in other words, according to the ancient reckoning, the third and the ninth hours respectively. To commemorate the hours in which the supernatural darkness overhung the scene of Crucifixion, there will be the "Service of the Passion," in St. John's from noon until 3 p. m., to which all Christian people are invited who have no service of their own at this time. This service is in some ways the most solemn and helpful of the whole year, and all who can, should attend it for at least a portion of the time. Persons who cannot give all the three hours, may come and go during any of the hymns.

There will also be the "Pro-nation" service, sometimes called the "Anti-Communism," in the church at 9 a. m. and evening prayer and address at 7:30 p. m. Good Friday of course should be kept as a day of absolute fasting, if not till evening, at least till the hour of the Death, Easter-even (Saturday) there will be a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 6 and 10:30 a. m. and in place of the regular evening service there will be Holy Baptism in the church at 4 p. m. Applications for Baptism should be made out on the parish blanks beforehand. The people are urged not to postpone the baptism of their children for in so doing they sin against the souls of their children, and disobey the plain commands of the Saviour.

Easter Day. Celebrations of the Holy Eucharist at 6 and 10:30 a. m., with sermon at latter service and full Easter music.

There will be no Sunday school at either the chapel or church at noon, but instead a meeting of both schools in the church at 4 in the afternoon. All the children and their parents are asked to attend this service and the children are requested to bring their Lenten milk-boxes.

There will be no evening service on Easter.

FAVORS COL. ROOSEVELT

The N. Y. Tribune in an Editorial Wants Him for President.

The New York Tribune, for years a strong Republican organ, came out for Col. Theodore Roosevelt for president, in an editorial, Thursday, April 13. The article follows:

Colonel Roosevelt and no "pussy-footing!"

The Tribune likes this candidate and this issue.

It regards Senator Root, its favorite so long as he had a chance of nomination, as now practically eliminated. It cannot interpret any more hopefully the failure of the "oxygen treatment" which his candidacy received, in the shape of the manifesto with seventy-five signers. The party thinks that Mr. Root would not be so likely to win as either Colonel Roosevelt or Justice Hughes, and it wants him as Secretary of State in the next Republican administration, since it cannot have him as President.

We are for Colonel Roosevelt because we believe the country needs him. No one else will quicken the pulse of the nation as he will quicken it. No one else will still the conscience of the people as he will still it. No one else will inspire patriotism as he will inspire it.

No one else personifies the issue which the Republican party must make as he personifies it. No one else presents so effective an antithesis to Wilson as he. If we are Americans, real Americans, the Colonel is our man. While timid politicians were consulting the census books and counting the German vote he spoke and the country heartened. He is the leader in the fight for Americanism, and we don't believe in changing leaders when we are going to the front.

We are for Colonel Roosevelt in spite of the fact that we were against him four years ago. No one ought him harder than we. No one will fight harder for him. It has not been easy to put aside our pride, our sense of resentment at what occurred in 1912, and the hundred other things that tend to keep alive divisions. But we have put them aside and are putting them aside because we feel that they have no place in a crisis like this. We came out for Colonel Roosevelt as a Republican newspaper, intending to remain Republican, and we feel that in doing so we are doing the best thing not only for the nation but for the Republican party.

We might have preferred another leader, but there is no other leader. Justice Hughes might have spoken if he had been free to speak. Indeed, we feel sure he would have spoken, and for Americanism, had silence not been imposed upon him, and then we should have preferred him. But the plain fact is that he did not speak, that he could not speak.

If the justice should be chosen leader in the fight for a worthier nationalism, he would have to take the torch that Colonel Roosevelt has thus far borne. He would have to accept an issue that meant its most only in another man's hands. Surely in the transfer we should lose our stride. As a people we should feel that we had hung back, that we hadn't "gone the limit" in the true American way. The governments of Europe would feel this, too. They would conclude that we meant to temporize. Something would be lost of the moral effect of moving straight on under the leadership of the men who represent the purpose of this country as no one else does or can.

The Colonel stands for the things The Tribune stands for. These things will be advanced more by his nomination than by any other nomination that can be made. The Tribune must support him.

We are doing more this year than choosing a new president. We are choosing which way the country shall go in the era that is now opening. Just as our fathers chose the nation's path in the days of 1820.

PORTSMOUTH SECTION HANDS ON B. & M. QUIT JOBS

Italian Laborers Strike for Higher Pay and Shorter Hours After Conference With Railroad Management at Boston—About Fifty Men Walk Out

Between forty and fifty of the Italian laborers, attached to the spare section crew of the Boston and Maine Railroad in the Portsmouth section, left their jobs on Tuesday evening. They stated to their foreman that they were striking for an eight hour day and $2.00. At the present time they were getting $1.50 for a ten-hour day. It is understood that the Boston and Maine officials refuse to consider this matter as a strike, taking the position that these men have simply left their jobs and their positions will be filled for the time being by men from Boston and Salem, Mass., who will be sent here this morning.

It is understood that these men, attached to the crews working under Foreman George Colson and Mark

Shinocks, have in some way affiliated with the section hands of the Fitchburg division and that a committee was in conference with the general manager of the Boston and Maine at Boston on Monday. In the afternoon the committee reported to the workmen and although this report was not made public, the men decided to strike. Eight of the men are connected with the Portsmouth wrecking crew and the remainder have been working on the new "Y" at Rockingham Junction for some time. Boston and Maine officials at Portsmouth and Boston are confident that no trouble will result and with the promise of the division engineer at Salem to have a sufficient number of men here in the morning, none of the work will be delayed for a moment.

UNITED STATES URGED TO LOOK SOUTH FOR OIL

PETROLEUM SUPPLY, SAYS ENGINEER REQUA, SHOULD BE SAFE GUARDED BY TURNING TO MEXICO AND SOUTH AMERICA.

Washington, April 18.—Safeguarding the oil supply of the United States by turning to Mexico, other Central and South American countries, is urged in an article on the exhaustion of the petroleum resources of the United States by M. L. Requa, consulting engineer of the bureau of mines. His article deals with the present and future supply and demand and the production of the larger oil fields of the United States.

"We are prone to think," he says, "of our coal supply as limitless, and that if it ever is exhausted the hydro electric power will supply the deficiency. We forget that the machinery must be lubricated and that there is no known substitute for petroleum as a lubricant. The problem of the source of our heat light and power is dependent on solving the problem of lubrication."

"Secretary of the Interior Lane in his annual report for 1915, in speaking of petroleum says: 'An absolute government would prohibit a barrel of it being used for fuel before every drop of kerosene, gasoline and other invaluable constituents have been taken from it.'"

"Our very prosperity makes us careless of the future. We waste natural resources with shameful prodigality; we are apathetic of the future, and we forget that our reserves of natural wealth are by no means inexhaustible. It is doubtful if sources of supply now unknown can be developed in the United States to compensate over any long period of time for the decline of known fields. It is highly improbable, in fact, that a quantity equal to the present estimated reserves can ever be developed in the territory yet to be discovered.

"The future seems to rest on Mexico, other Central and South American countries, in the safeguarding of whose supply the United States is taking no action. When it is too late, we will awake to the fact that the oil resources of the world are in foreign hands, and that, so far as its lubricants are concerned, the United States has become the vassal of some foreign power."

"The operation of hydro-electric generators, of railways and trolley cars, of the machinery of the factories, of internal combustion engines, of our battleships and our merchant ships—in fact, of all machinery, is made possible by the use of one product, and of one product alone—petroleum."

"For it there remains no known satisfactory substitute as a lubricant; its exhaustion spells commercial chaos or commercial subjugation by the nation or nations that control the future source of supply from which petroleum will be derived. There is but one escape and that is the discovery of some substitute, that will as efficaciously and economically lubricate the machinery of the nation, from the handcraft of the watchmaker to the dreadnought of the navy."

A comparison of the production of the past few years shows very small additional development by oil operators. From the figures of the United States geological survey, it appears that the United States is relying today in the main, on the same general areas that were relied on 10 years ago. If the same conditions are to continue for the coming decade, the United States will have to face a condition of acute shortage unless foreign sources are drawn upon to make up the deficit, according to Mr. Requa. "In any case," he says, "prices must advance."

"Our very prosperity makes us careless of the future. We waste natural resources with shameful prodigality; we are apathetic of the future, and we forget that our reserves of natural wealth are by no means inexhaustible. It is doubtful if sources of supply now unknown can be developed in the United States to compensate over any long period of time for the decline of known fields. It is highly improbable, in fact, that a quantity equal to the present estimated reserves can ever be

I'VE BEEN TOLD THAT

Portsmouth, already the home of many clubs and organizations, has a new one in its midst, I. e. "The Grand Order of Beasts." The "G. O. B." membership is composed entirely of members of the crew of the U. S. S. San Francisco and have engaged quarters at 53 Market street. The rooms are to be furnished and will be open to their friends when invited on all week days with the exception of the period between Saturday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock and Monday morning at 7.50 o'clock, when the club is in secret session. Each of the members are given a name, taken from some animal in the forests. The organization, as perfected on Tuesday evening after the election of officers is "Leon" J. E. Benz, president, "Tiger" F. Eisl, vice president, "Camel" T. Davis, treasurer; and "Elephant" F. Hand, secretary. And noises coming from the building at 53 Market street in the early evening resembling the cries of the wilds of Central Africa need cause no fears as the "animals" drop their titles and roles as soon as they emerge from their own stamping grounds.

Captain Amee, Keeper of Whaleback light reports that he believes the record for continued storms in April was made in 1916. During this month, and the month isn't over yet, Captain Amee said that one storm lasted continuously for 27 hours. In his experience in the United States light house service he said he could recall none which came near being its equal for time record.

Today is "Postcard" day in Maine. Every resident of the Pine Tree State is expected to send at least one post card to some friend-out of the state, telling of the advantages of Maine as a place to live as a year-round resident or as a vacation playground. This is following New Hampshire's advertising day of November 23, 1911 and if the Maine natives are as successful as we were, Maine is going to have some boost.

The weatherwise are predicting a pleasant Easter but where they get their dope in New England is beyond the understanding of the great majority of those who have spent the greater part of their lives in this climate. Just because we have been having a great amount of rain for the past few days no sign in these parts that the weather man intends to be a good fellow. If the hopes and wishes of the citizens of this—the best section of the country—dispite the mean work of the weatherman—counted for anything, Easter Sunday would be one of the finest days on record. Those who are predicting good weather for Sunday have the sincere thanks for trying to help and the man who believes in something good seems to get along better than the other fellow in the opinion of his fellow-men, even if he does guess wrong occasionally. Mark Twain said that when a fellow promised a good day he was doing all he could to give you a good time.

The Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association "Room New England" dinner at Hotel Somerset, Boston, Thursday night promises to be a great success. The object is to advertise your hotels, your towns, anything you can think of to boom New England, Portsmouth will be there in force to advertise the greatest centre for tourists in New England. 16,000 tourists come here annually. We could easily get 25,000. One half a billion was spent in Florida this winter by tourists, and the railroads report they carried 300,000 to and from New York and southern resorts. Since people cannot go to Europe and since they must go somewhere, why not the north, why not Portsmouth, why not make an effort to get them?

Louise Randolph Gives Some Earnest Attention to Problem in Play

"In the storm of discussion stirred up by Mr. McLaughlin's 'Eternal Magdalen,' the most insistent comment is that he states his problem but does not solve it," says Louise Randolph who has the role of "Blanche DuBois" in the company now at the Grand Opera House in Chicago.

"After I had listened to that for a while, I began to ponder over it, and I remembered that I heard something like it before concerning other enlightening plays. Will some one please tell me why an author is expected to offer a solution?"

"One of the greatest so-called 'problem plays' ever written—'Strife,' by John Galsworthy—gave two sides of a question, with the utmost impartiality, and then left the decision to the audience. Mr. McLaughlin has not attempted a problem play for one thing. His is a drama of a powerful man, a scintillating woman, and a family, all involved in a disaster and a recovery.

"The problem is incidental. It is a brilliant play, to be sure. There are persons to whom the appeal of the problem is greater than the appeal of the story. If at that is no reason why they should expect Mr. McLaughlin to work it out for them."

"For that matter, no real problem has ever been solved."

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural ruddy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman, and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, and women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags," and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels, the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

PROTECTION FOR TROOPS CONSIDERED MAIN THING

General Pershing so Reports to Officers on the Border in Regard to Conditions in Mexico—
Villa Hunt a Secondary Matter.

El Paso, Texas, April 18.—The Villa hunt today is a secondary matter. Protection of the United States troops in Mexico is now the main thing. Gen. Pershing is understood to have made a report to that effect to Gen. Funston.

The question whether the body presently being taken into Chihuahua City is that of Villa is still holding attention, but the safety of the American expedition, following the Parral incident and the withdrawal request from Gen. Carranza, was uppermost in the minds of army chiefs along the border.

Gen. Pershing has left his advanced base at Satevo and returned to his Namiquipa staff headquarters. At Namiquipa, about midway along the lines of communication, he can keep a closer watch on the situation and better direct his army. No American troops are now believed to be south of Santa Cruz.

If Villa is not dead, but has escaped into Durango, as formerly reported, the American pursuit has apparently been halted. If the body reported exhumed west of Satevo is not Villa's, neither the United States nor the Mexican authorities have any adequate idea of the bandit chief's whereabouts, they admitted today.

Mexican officials, the only authorities professing to have direct knowledge of the finding of Villa's body near San Francisco Herjia, claimed wires which went down last night prevented receipt of further information early to day. While the failure of the Mexicans rapidly to produce the body for identification by Americans has increased skepticism, the delay may be due to natural causes, such as slow means of transportation. It was also pointed out that the Carranza officials may themselves be the victims of a hoax.

If Col. Carlos Carranza, who knows Villa intimately, identifies the corpse as Villa's, the United States is willing to accept the identification and recall the troops. No obstacles are expected to be placed in the way of American officials also identifying the body, but if the de facto government officials announce confirmation of Villa's death, government officials here today did not see how it can be disputed.

Villa Death Story Branded as a Fake. San Antonio, Tex., April 18.—Gen. Bell, reporting from El Paso to Maj. Gen. Funston, said that, after thorough investigation he found that the report of Villa's death had been manufactured in Juarez. Consul Letcher also failed to verify the report.

Camp of Gen. Pershing, April 17.—A small party of American soldiers was fired on near here last night, none of the Americans being injured. This, coming on the heels of other reports of sniping, is responsible for the belief that the expeditionary command is confronted with a serious problem.

With the American army in Mexico April 16 (wireless to Columbus, N. M.) April 18.—Gen. Pershing arrived today at his field headquarters near Namiquipa after an all night ride from Satevo for a conference with members of his staff.

Men in Pershing's command brought details of the Parral fight of April 12, which placed the matter in the light of a deliberate attack by Carranza soldiers, even possibly of an attempt to annihilate the little force of 114 cavalrymen under Maj. Tompkins.

After one of his men had been killed Tompkins made up his mind that if his command was going to be slaughtered they would do the fighting. He "cut loose" as one of Pershing's men said, and the Mexicans soon retreated, leaving more than 40 dead on the field. Tompkins held his men in restraint until he noticed on an adjacent hill in Parral a body of soldiers over whom the Mexican flag was flying.

In answer to Tompkins' question Gen. Lozano, a Carranza officer who led the American column into the city, told him that the troops on the hill were part of the garrison watching the movements of the Americans with intent to guard them.

Just then the so-called guard fired a volley into the American detachment, killing one trooper.

An enormous crowd of Mexicans, made up largely of Carranza soldiers, had surrounded the United States troops. Previously there had been a little shooting which Tompkins thought was in welcome of the Americans. We had been met by Lozano, who had promised a welcome and a camping place. A non-commissioned officer dashed up to Tompkins and reported that the Americans had been fired on and a number of them wounded. Tompkins asked Lozano for an explanation but he seemed mystified, afterward asking Tompkins to get his men out of the city immediately. Lozano offered to guide the Americans to safety, but Tompkins, fearing a trap, formed a plan of his own.

A squad of eight skirmishers was thrown out at the head of the retreating American column, seeking to find an easy defence. The mobs grew larger. Rifle and pistol fire at the Americans evident of the so-called Carranza guard became incessant. Then followed the in on the hill and the reply of the Americans.

Tompkins retired to Santa Cruz, where he dug himself in and awaited reinforcements. These soon began to arrive from all directions, a command under Col. Allen making a phenomenal march to the scene. Col. Brown and Maj. Hawze led other re-enforcing detachments.

Pershing's men also reported that Lozano, representing Mayor Herrera of Parral, had arranged for Tompkins to be at the railway station just before noon where he would find an escort of Carranza soldiers. Tompkins was on time but found no escort. While he was talking with Lozano the American cavalrymen dismounted. In a few minutes the mob began to gather. Led by Lozano toward the proposed camping place the Americans had proceeded but a short distance when the first shots were heard.

The American casualties were two killed, one missing and six wounded. Maj. Tompkins suffered a slight wound. Only Villa's Head to Be Shown Says Garcia.

El Paso, Texas, April 18.—Only Villa's head may be brought back for identification, according to Carranza Consul Garcia. He said that the probably badly decomposed condition of the body and the fact that the rough mountain trails were 30 miles to the grave from the nearest railroad might render removal of the corpse difficult.

Men are Amazed

At the Effortless
Performance of the

Hudson Super-Six

80% More Reserve Power

REMEMBER that rivals must discredit the Hudson Super-Six. This motor is a Hudson invention. It is controlled by Hudson patents. And it gives to Hudson vast advantage over any other car that's built.

Don't let the doubts expressed by rivals give you a wrong impression. The Super-Six is here. Any day, in 30 minutes, you can prove it out.

Come and watch this car's performance, and let that form your judgment.

34 H. P. ADDED

A new principle is here applied to a light-weight, simple Six. Vibration, which caused friction in the motor, is reduced to almost nothing.

This size of motor, at its best, used to deliver about 42 horsepower. In the Super-Six it delivers 76 horsepower—an increase of 80 per cent.

Think of that—80% more reserve power without adding size or cylinders. All because the Super-Six is the smoothest-running motor in the world.

With this vast reserve power, no situation seems to call for effort. Hills and hard roads are made easy.

One may creep on high gear, and instantly dash to speed. One may pass any car he wishes.

But the greatest advantage shows at moderate speed. The motor is never taxed. At ordinary speeds it runs at less than half load. That means a long-lived motor.

WEAR ALMOST NIL

This lack of vibration reduces motor wear enormously. Endurance has been almost doubled.

One Super-Six stock car was run 7,000 miles at top speed over mountains and deserts. Another was run 1,350 miles on a speedway, at speed exceeding 70 miles per hour. No owner will ever tax his car like that. Yet no part or bearing, in either test, showed any discoverable wear. That is a saving which no man can overlook.

AVOID REGRETS

The Super-Six means new delights in motoring. The car seems to move by magic. It means reserve power for any emergency. It means performance which no other car can match.

It means economy, endurance. It means satisfaction, for the man who owns it has the greatest motor built.

It means beauty and luxury, for the new Hudson bodies are masterpieces.

Come and prove these facts to avoid regret. Come now if you want spring delivery. There is an over-demand for the Super-Six, but cars ordered now can be delivered in time for the motoring season.

All Other Cars Outrivalled

At Sharphead Bay, under A. A. supervision, a 7-passenger Super-Six stock car exceeded all former stock cars in these tests:

100 miles in 80 min., 21.4 sec., averaging 74.67 miles per hour with driver and passenger.

75.69 miles in one hour with driver and passenger. Standing start to 50 miles an hour in 16.2 sec.

During these tests the car was driven 1,530 miles at top capacity, at speed exceeding 70 miles per hour, without discoverable wear on any part.

DARTMOUTH MEN START FOOTBALL WORK VERY SOON

Hanover, April 18.—Spring football practice at Dartmouth College will start under the direction of Coach F. W. Cavanaugh as soon as Alumni day is in suitable condition for the outdoor work. It is not yet definitely known when Coach Cavanaugh will arrive in Hanover, but if he is not here to open the practice, he will take charge of it immediately upon his arrival.

Daily practice will be held for a period of two or three weeks consisting of signal drill and other light work but there will be no scrimmage. A roll call of those men reporting for practice will be taken daily, and strict attendance will be necessary for all candidates. The hard schedule for next fall necessitates strenuous preliminary work this spring so the team may be fairly well advanced in preliminaries before all work begins.

Coach Cavanaugh expects all men on the 1916 squad, as well as all others who expect to be candidates for the squad next fall to report. All regular varsity men will take part in the practice with the exception of those who are on the baseball or track squads.

BAD COLD? TAKE 'CASCARETS' FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

They're fine! Liven your liver and bowels and clear your head.

No headache, sour stomach, bad cold or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

Don of Dr. George B. Magrath, Medical Examiner of Suffolk County. Parents and the schools, he declared, are the best agencies for reducing the number of fatal accidents that occur in Boston and New England. The deaths of children from automobiles and trucks, he declared to be largely the result of children on "Mares" and unduly exposing themselves to hazards. Dr. Magrath showed an audience at Harvard Medical school a number of illustrations of children "stealing" rides on motor and horse-drawn vehicles, from which they drop off at any time unexpectedly, in front of other vehicles. How to eliminate this cause, he said he did not know, for he was not certain that detention or arrest for either the children or parents would be effective. Both the traveling public and railroad management were praised for their combined efforts which resulted in only one fatal accident to passengers on the steam railroads in Boston last year. The deaths due to street cars were five, while 14 railroad employees lost their lives. The great proportion of all accidents that come under his personal observation, Dr. Magrath stated, are in their essence preventable and avoidable, and the most effective remedy in prevention through a general knowledge of the causes and the exercise of precaution.

The next big proposition recommended by Governor Samuel W. McCall that will engage the attention of the Legislature will be his recommendations for the extension of the Civil Service Commission so that they may look into departments for the purpose of discovering lack of efficiency, or in other words to allow them to continue their supervision after examinations have been held. It also contemplates giving the Commission power enough to protect properly the persons under civil service. At present this protection is a farce, as the Mayor of Boston has demonstrated, according to some public officials.

Beginning last night and for eight days the Jews of the world will observe "Passover," the feast of Passover, also commonly known as the feast of the unleavened bread. The holiday is observed in which the "Seder" services at the home, when the first "matzo" or unleavened bread is broken. Following up the program initiated by Rabbi Harry Levi a few years ago, a public "Seder" will be held at Temple Israel tonight. It is called "public" because the members and their families attend in place of holding individual "Seder" services at their homes.

The Historical Improvement Society will hold a rummage sale in Portsmouth next week. It is hoped that it will be well patronized.

TWO MEN HURT BY EXPLOSION

HEAD OF STEAM DRUM IN HAVERTHILL SHOE SUPPLY HOUSE BLOWS OUT.

Haverhill, April 18.—One man was seriously injured and may lose his eyesight and another was slightly burned when the head of a steam drum of a pasting machine located in the basement of the shoes supplies establishment of Moses H. Dow, 81 to 87 Washington street, blew out at about 10:30 this forenoon, wrecking all the windows in the front of the basement and almost throwing the employees into a panic. The office force who include several young women were directly over the spot where the explosion occurred but beyond being badly frightened they escaped injury.

The injured are Orie J. Harteau, a machinist living at 37 Eighth avenue and employed by the Hushell Machine Co., whose eyes are badly injured and Edward Jackson of 30 Currier avenue a machine operator, slightly burned about the arms. Harteau was rushed to Boston in an automobile immediately after the accident for treatment at the Boston Eye and Ear Infirmary, he being accompanied on the trip by John Burfield, John Collins, machinists, who stood near the other two men at the moment of the accident, but was not injured.

The Hushell Machine men had been making repairs upon the machine since last Friday and when they were completed Harteau, who had been engaged in the work, turned on the steam. It is claimed that not more than 35 pounds of steam was on when the drum head blew out, although the boiler is capable of carrying 65 pounds of steam.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating, and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

SOME SUGGESTIVE WORDS ABOUT WHAT TO WEAR -- WHEN TO WEAR IT--AND HOW TO MAKE IT IN THE MAY DELINEATOR

Now on sale at The D. F. Borthwick Store.

Quaint and girlish, designs 8397 and 8403 illustrate one of the most attractive types of draped frocks for evening wear.

THE LAST DAYS OF SCHOOL.

Flounced frocks are especially becoming to the young girl, and design 8354 is particularly adapted to soft, dainty materials.

BEGINNING LESSONS IN DRESSMAKING.

The use of the pattern—Take your pattern out of the envelope, unfold the pieces and spread them out. It will seem very simple to you after the complicated jig-saw puzzles of a few years ago. Each piece is numbered, and on the back of the pattern envelope you will find its picture clearly named, so that you'll know just what it is.

YOU AND YOUR NEEDLE.

One of the great delights of sewing is that you can sew and gossip at the same time.

NOT TREATED AS A STRIKE

None of Railroad Section Men Return to Work.

None of the men who quit work in the several section crews of the Boston and Maine railroad in this city on Tuesday, returned to work today.

The Herald man met some of the foremen today who declared that the matter was not considered as a strike, that the men made no demand through the foremen, but simply said, "We are done," and walked out.

The company cannot treat such a movement as a strike in view of the fact that the men were simply discharged at their own request. In the meantime the work of putting in a new "y" at Rockingham is at a standstill and other work being done by what is known as spare crews, will be delayed.

Railroad officials state that it is known that a strike vote had been taken but no move was to be made to go out until a conference was held with the officials. However, the men took it on themselves to quit, and between fifty and sixty of them refused to work.

The workmen, on the other hand say their demand for eight hours and $2 per day has been refused and unless this is granted they will stay out for good.

Five men are at work today in the yard crew of Foreman Whitten, three of whom did not quit with the others, two that were hired this morning.

No work is being done by either Foreman George Colson or Mark Shumlicks of the spare crews today, but they plan to begin with a crew of 30 or more men who will come here from Boston on Thursday.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the raffle on Pleasant street today was some affair.

That the boys who departed after the rooster had been raffled for the third time says it looked like an all night session.

That if all the business rumors floating come true, some surprises are on the way.

That a prisoner at the Concord state prison, sent up about a year ago from this city for larceny, is pleading for a pardon.

That his sentence was eighteen months.

That a detachment of the First Company, U. S. C., left here for the Massachusetts rifle range today to engage in target practice.

That the I. W. W. will make another attempt to organize in this city.

That many are of the opinion that the organization may have a hand in the present trouble on the Boston and Maine.

That some of the members of the Little Bowery A. C. want the girls to suggest a new name for the organization.—Not a bad idea.

That a well known young lady says she positively refuses to eat corn-starch in any form.

That she fears it may impart stiffness to her manners.

That a member of the boys are wondering if they are in right for that party to be given by the Crescent club at Rye on Thursday night.

That a man is often humorous and doesn't know it.

That one lately advertised a lecture on the "Panama Canal, Illustrated with slides."

That the old saying was, "When Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war."

That times have surely changed. Now, when Greek meets Greek, they pool their savings and open up a bootblack stand.

That the man who has never been sick is often the greatest cry-baby when the hospital gets him.

That many a man who will be seen in church next Sunday imagines that he has taken on immortality both for one year more.

That the Portsmouth Yacht club will have something on for July 4.

That many a man is lucky when he escapes with what it cost to fight a breach of promise suit.

The Hardman

THE PIANO THAT GIVES PERENNIAL SATISFACTION

This is an interesting fact about the Hardman Piano. Run your eye over the lists of used and exchanged pianos offered every now and then for sale at reduced prices. You will notice that the Hardman is conspicuous by its absence. A hundred or more different manufacturers are constantly represented in the lists in the course of the year, but rarely found is the name of Hardman.

This can mean only one thing. The people who have bought the Seventy Thousand Hardman Pianos are so thoroughly satisfied with them that they desire no change. Even when they decide to replace their piano by a Player-Piano, they still want a Hardman. So they come to us and exchange their valued old friend for a Hardman Auto-tone.

That word "friend" sums up the whole situation. The Hardman is the Piano of the Home. Almost from the moment of its arrival in the household it is regarded by each member of it not as a mere musical instrument but as a real, living, intimate friend.

It is this that should influence you when you are making up your mind as to what piano you are going to buy. These facts you will find well worth remembering.

Terms arranged to suit your convenience.
 Liberal allowance for instruments taken in exchange.
 Write for handsomely illustrated catalogue.
